

Bakhoor

Masomeen^{-asws} like the fragrance of Oud, among other incense.

الإختصاص قَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ يَوْمًا لِمُوسَى بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ عَ أَحِبِّينِي أَيُّ شَيْءٍ كَانَ أَحَبَّ إِلَيَّ أَلِ الْبُخُورِ أَمْ الطُّنْبُورِ

(The book) 'Al Ikhtisas' –

'One day Abu Haneefa said to Musa^{-asws} Bin Ja'far^{-asws}, 'Inform me, which one was most beloved to your^{-asws} father^{-asws}, the Oud (lute) or the drum?'

قَالَ لَا بَلِ الْبُخُورِ فَسُئِلَ عَنْ ذَلِكَ فَقَالَ يُحِبُّ عُودَ الْبُخُورِ وَ يُبْغِضُ الطُّنْبُورَ.

He^{-asws} said: 'No, but the Oud'. He asked about that'. He^{-asws} said: 'He^{-asws} loved the 'Oud' of the incense burner and hated the drum".¹

¹ Bihar Al-Anwaar – V 48, The book of History – Musa Al-Kazim^{-asws}, Ch 7 H 22