Q: Showing that a field over the rationals is infinite Let F be the field of rational functions on the complex plane. Show that F is infinite. This is what I have so far: The elements of F are $\frac{a}{b} + c$ with $a, b, c \in \mathbb{Z}$ and $b \neq 0$. All elements of F must be of the form $\frac{a}{b} + c$ with $a, c \in \mathbb{Z}$ and $a \neq b$. How do I further this proof? Can I use the first property? A: The field of polynomials $\mathbb{C}[X]$ is an infinite field, as is any n -dimensional vector space \mathbb{R}^n for $n \in \mathbb{N}$
